

Thaci: Kosovo, an example of how a democratic country is build

Deputy Prime Minister and Foreign Minister of Kosovo, Hashim Thaci said that his country is an example of overcoming the devastation of war and building a free and democratic state.

Thaci, who is taking part in the economic forum of Crans Montana in Switzerland, wrote on his Facebook profile that in this forum he presented Kosovo's achievements in building peace and democracy.

"The call for Kosovo to be recognized bilaterally and to become a member of international organizations was welcomed and supported. Kosovo is an example of overcoming the devastation of war and state building a free, democratic country that promotes dialogue and cooperation", wrote Thaci on Facebook. /albeu.com/

Published on: October 15, 2015 - 9:17 pm