

Rivers First Lady canvasses protection of women's rights

By Our Reporter 05/07/2012 12:00:00

WIFE of the Rivers State Governor, Dame Judith Amaechi, has identified education and empowerment as key ingredients in advancing and promoting the dignity and rights of women.

Dame Judith stated this during the 2012 Cran Montana forum plenary session on the Promotion of Women's Rights and dignity, held in Baku Azerbaijan Republic, recently.

She stated that the rights of women must be protected through regularly inter-face among all stakeholders.

Mrs. Amaechi stated that the promotion of the Rights of women can guarantee protection of human Rights and ensures global peace and harmony.

The governor's wife state that violation of the right and dignity of women have gone beyond harmful traditional practice and added food insecurity, healthcare, economic and political instability as well as environmental degradation are violation of the women's rights.

Mrs. Amaechi also disclosed that if the rights of women must be upheld and respected, all efforts must be put in place to inculcate rights values in the children.

“It is about time we grow a generation of people with the right values we must be interested in people who will be interested in protecting their rights and have respects for others” she added.

WIFE of the Rivers State Governor, Dame Judith Amaechi, has identified education and empowerment as key ingredients in advancing and promoting the dignity and rights of women.

Dame Judith stated this during the 2012 Cran Montana forum plenary session on the Promotion of Women's Rights and dignity, held in Baku Azerbaijan Republic, recently.

She stated that the rights of women must be protected through regularly inter-face among all stakeholders.

Mrs. Amaechi stated that the promotion of the Rights of women can guarantee protection of human Rights and ensures global peace and harmony.

Link